Hi Monica,

It was great to talk to you today. Thanks for this link.

And thank you very much for the generous review of NANO...I should have given you proper lead time. So, thank you twice over. I took good notes on your ideas for helping the journal, and hope to make improvements during this semester (and into the summer).

I'm not sure if Martha Nussbaum is helpful for your projects, but she has helped me a great deal. My favorites are:

- Upheavals of Thought: The Intelligence of Emotions
- Creating Capabilities: The Human Development Approach

See you soon.

Best,
Sean

Subject: <https://librarypublishing.org/resources/library-publishing-curriculum/> so some of this may not be relevant but I'm sure you find other pieces of it very valuable. Take care and great talking to you.
