

Pg #

QUOTES

243

"When this frustrated reader walks away from your work, trying to figure out, say, why you used so many quotations, or why you kept starting and ending paragraphs with them, she may come to the same conclusion: I do about slow drivers."

I agree with this quote because many times when I read a book or anything else I often get confused or annoyed when this happens.

243

"But readers and writers don't always see eye to eye on the same text!"

I think it is very important for the writers to make their writing clear enough for the readers because if not, we'll never understand the message or what is written."

245

"The easiest way to effectively message in quotations by purposefully returning to open one in your draft to see if you set the stage for your readers."

making sure you have made it clear for the readers is necessary so the reader does not lose focus.