

ENG 1133 - REFLECTIVE REPORT ASSIGNMENT

As your final deliverable for ENG 1133, you will produce a professionally-composed presentation report (8 to 12 pages single-spaced) narrating both the value you have brought to the robotic rover project, but also the value you have taken from it. As the source material for your essay, you will use the entirety of the 15-week class. The weekly productivity reports you have written throughout the class, the work product you have produced, and your own observations will serve as the raw data for the final reflective report.

The report will include a presentation of how you spent your time on the project, the specific contributions you have made, the value of those contributions to the project, major challenges you have overcome, lessons you have learned, what you feel like you have accomplished, and what you plan on doing with what you have learned. You may organize your report however you wish, but it should be well-designed and effectively organized on the page.

THIS ASSIGNMENT IS DUE BY NOON ON 12/14/18 (THURS)

Grading

The entire project is worth 30% of your final grade. As I evaluate your work, I will be looking for these qualities:
