

Genre:Podcast

By: Alex Herrera

What is a podcast?

A podcast is the modern day version of radio in the digital world. It can be in audio or video format in the internet world.

The purpose of a podcast is to entertain the audience. Podcast usually engage in a discussion about specific topics or current events that involve the audience to also think about.

Traits of An Podcast

- Open- minded (different opinion are shared)
- Easily accessible through multiple streaming service
- Regular schedule
- Audio format; some have video form
- Usually 1 to 2 hours long
- Popular topics or current events are talked about

Examples:

- The Joe Rogan Experience - Spotify & Youtube (Variety of topics)
- The Daily (New York Times)- All streaming service (latest events)
- The Ben Shapiro Show - Apple (cc)