Reflection

My topic was inflation, at first I didn't know what I wanted my genre to be or where my topic would have been easy to be placed in. Moving forward from that my topic would be considered in something that is major and sending an alert to people to let them know what was going on if they didn't know and how it is affecting them and the economy. The topic came to mind because I felt that it would have been different from everyone else's and because it was something that we can all relate to. I felt that it was more like a news report or a psa because it was something that involved the economy and it was more on the money side. In my opinion I feel that inflation is something important and should be alerted to everyone to pay attention to and take interest in. In my personal experience inflation has affected my life in a negative way especially with the fact that I do not work or have a source of any income. Inflation goes with the genre of a news report and/or a public service announcement because it's giving information to people who get them. This point is more towards politicians, adults, young grown-ups and entrepreneurs. Inflation can go the two different ways of good and awful. Certain individuals don't know what inflation is meaning to the world. A news report and psa are meant to give out useful quick information so it's supposed to be short and simple. Inflation is something that has been and still is going on and some people may not understand it or know it making my writing piece a news report.
