For the multimodal project, I decided to create a simple poster to get the attention of politicians, students, and gun holders themselves.

Gun laws are ridiculous in America, I made this poster as easy and simple as it can get cause I knew you would get your attention. Gun laws are one of the most talked about subjects in the USA and it's time we finally take a stand and start looking at the ridiculous laws that are put in place right now, yes I'm talking to you. You as the students, politicians, and gun holders yourselves need to see the issues we all see from around the world. Some states already have strict laws but there are many others that aren't strict and still allow violence to be caused because of these laws. Many events that went global and struck protests across the world were
