

Review thesis with opening stance

Thesis without opposing stance: Cell phone use in and out of schools seems to be isolating students from their social lives, affecting their quality of life, and not fully guaranteed to academically improve students .

Thesis with opposing stance: Cell phone usage in schools creates a great amount of advantages to students ability to access work or help online.