

Rhoda Deliard

My strengths:

I am a detail oriented nurse and looks at the patient as a whole when providing care. I am able to prioritize patient's needs, so each client gets what they need at the right time. I have also practice my communication skills, incorporating active listening and compassion with each patient encounter. I find this skill decrease my patient's anxiety level and increases patient's satisfaction. I also put my self in each of my patient's shoes, empathizing with their health concerns or problem. This truly allows me to treat them, they way I would like to be treating in a health care setting.
