

Jonathan Pollares

"How to Read Like a Writer" Notes

- Bunn realizes that authors write how readers read, word by word
- Bunn never realized the important connections between reading and writing
- Reading in a particular way could also make you a better writer. (p. 72)
- Reading like a writer helps identify the choices the author made
- Considering the most important choices in the text is the goal of reading like a writer
- Essays may begin with techniques such as a quote.
- Different choices the author ~~make~~ makes effects the readers
- Choices authors make reflect in our own writing
- Ask yourself questions while reading