To Whom It May Concern:

I would like to recommend Sha Bhuyan for a position in your company.

Sha was a student of mine for three semesters and he performed extremely well in those classes. He constantly demonstrated interest and an acute sense of understanding of the basic and of the more complex concepts of the course's subjects.

Sha proved to be one of my best students and had shown a deep desire to understand the subjects to the minimum details. He had never missed a class, and had never been late in the assignments.

I don't have any doubt that given the opportunity Sha will become a very important member of your company.

Sincerely yours,
