Commerce Clause

EP. 9 • 08.17.17 • DOWNLOAD

The federal government can't pass any law it wants to. It's limited by Article 1 Section 8 of the Constitution, but the executive branch can choose how to enforce those laws. Under Trump, there are indications that drug laws, whose power is derived from the Commerce Clause, are about to be enforced very differently.

The Takings Clause

EP. 8 • 08.10.17 • DOWNLOAD

To build a wall, Trump is going to need to seize private land. The Constitution has something to say about that and it's known as the Takings Clause.

Recess Appointment Power

EP. 7 • 08.03.17 • DOWNLOAD

The Constitution says that the president can appoint important executive positions with the advice and consent of the Senate. But what if the Senate is out on recess? Does the president have to wait until the Senate comes back? Today we'll explore the recess appointment power.
