Section 1: EXTENDED DIARY EXCERPT

March 25, 2020

3:00 P.M.

I needed to study for this exam. I don't really know what to study, so what I did was read the whole chapter. The chapter has about 39 pages. Tow hours later I just finished studying for now. If you are taking a class with this textbook, I hope you don't have to read it alor remember it all.

5:30 P.M.

Trying to find something to watch but there was nothing to watch. I hate it when I can't watch something because there is nothing good on.

7:00 P.M.

I checked my email, I got some notification about when my class discussion starts for math, and when my exams start. After that I did some math homework in which the whole class doesn't understand since she is teaching it online. She doesn't explain it well online. She doesn't use Zoom. She uses Blackboard in which it doesn't help. She just does an example and then gives us an example to do, then she does class discussion on it the next day. But what do we discuss? never got a good response.

8:20 P.M.

I'm so lost, what I got to do. Well it's college if I don't know something I gotta find a way to learn about it in my own way. People always tell me this and so I believed it. Ate dinner, I know kind of late for dinner. Then an hour later I worked out.

9:40 A.M.

got up took a shower and brushed my teeth and cleaned my room. I was so sore that I didn't want to wake up, but I knew that I had to. My math teacher said be on Blackboard at 10:00 to start the discussion.

10:00-11:29 A.M.

this was something that I didn't understand and to be honest I'm good at math. What happened to my math skills lol. Did it go away or something. I was good in math when I was in high school. Dad just took the exam. I passed though it feels good, but I wanted higher.

1:00 P.M.

My dad asks me to help him with his computer and to help him with setting an account. So we setup an account for no reason. Four hours gone to waste. Uhhhh.... you know what I could've done with four hours a lot of things.

April 2, 2020

Didn't sleep at. I had to get up at 9:45 in the morning so I thought that it was better if I did not sleep until 12:45. Why 12:45. Well I had another test around 11:15. So I went to go study until my next class.

April 3, 2020

11:15 A.M

Studied so much this is the class that I really want to pass at the moment I was thinking that I focus too much on homework and studying that I hadn't had time for myself. So, what I did was spend more time on doing things that I like to do then stay home and study. After this though that I had I went to sleep.

12:00 P.M.

As I was reading the diary of the wimpy kid it took me back to my childhood day and why I like the book so much. Then something popped in my head something that I love so much was Pokémon. Pokémon is an animated tv show that I use to watch. Its about people catching wild animals that can be around a village forest water and deserts. Once they have caught them they would use the animals to battle each other. This was a competitive but friendly thing they did. I loved the show so much that I would buy the card packs. Each pack would come with 10, so it would be 10 for 1 dollar. The number of cards that I had was about 500 of them. As I'm thinking about this I thought why I wouldn't buy the game to see if I still have the same love for it as I did back then. So I brought Pokémon shield .

5:00 P.M.

After playing the game for some hours I knew why I liked Pokémon back then. the game is so full of action and adventure. And the story tells you how and what happen in the region. They would first say that they are myth but once you go deep in the story the myths become true. I really don't know how to explain it because I just started but when I get further into it I could explain it better.

April 4 2020

So I was thing about going to my aunts house because being trapped this house 24/7 is too much. She only lives a block down for me so I was like whatever. So I got ready and as I was about to leave my father said if you leaving you gotta take a hand sanitizer. A hand sanitizer. See I understood it that you know, but the next thing was scary. When I got to my aunt house they said hey wassup, Jordy how is it staying at home. As I was walking I was going to say it bad until he said stop. Jordy you gotta take off your shoes. Ummm, why? When I come here I would never take off my shoe. He said its because some people like to spit on the ground and stuff and the virus could be on your shoe. Lol I couldn't believe he told me that. He told me to clean them. I didn't know what to think of this I don't know if they are smart for this or if they are over doing it? I need an answer are they t trippin (trippin mean if I'm crazy) or should it I really be taking this seriously.

April 5, 2020

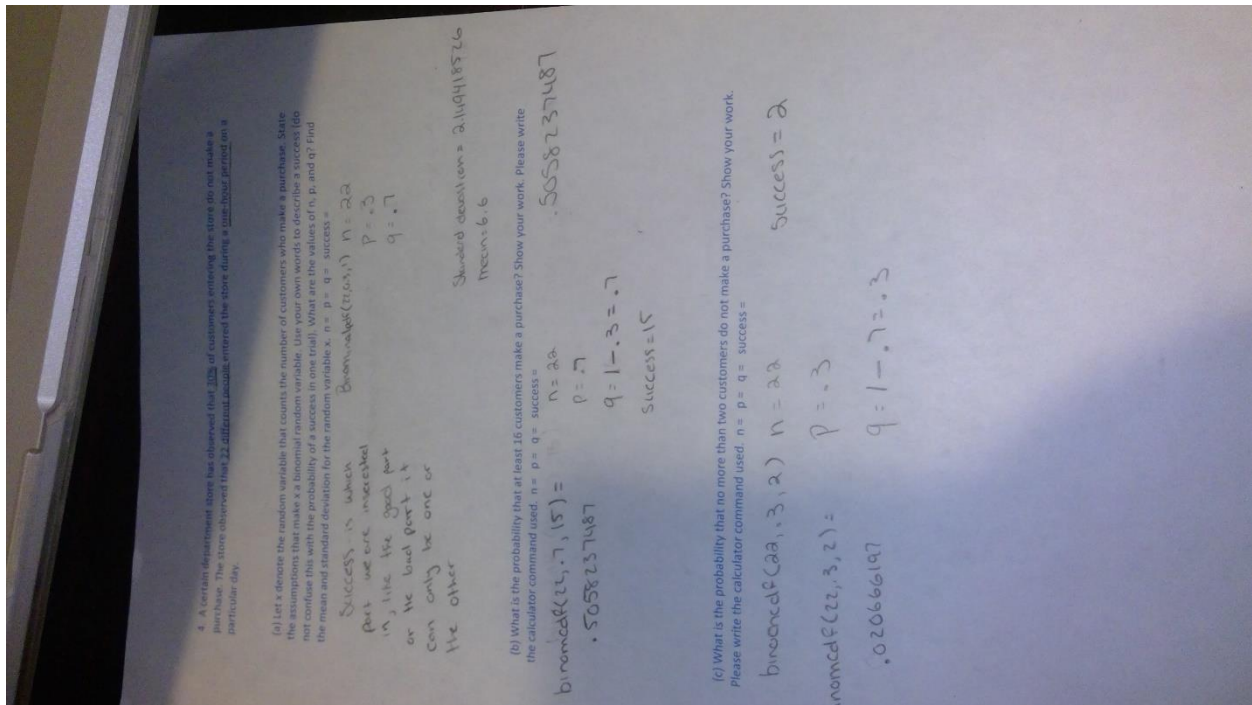

1:00 P.M.

Had to help my dad again. On the computer in which he always has a problem with. The funny things is that he always ask he to help him with the computer or his phone. My sister uses those things more than me so why won't he ask her.

7:00 P.M.

As I was doing I was doing homework my math professor puts up 13 assignments for math in which it was all about Normalcdf, Normalpdf and invnorm(These are probability problem by the way). She has 5 examples of Normalcdf, Normalpdf and invnorm, the 7 videos of them in which we needs to understand by Thursday which is crazy.

10:00 P.M.

As I'm trying to understand the video, my mother told me that three of my cousins has this virus one did get it because she was helping a patient that had it but the other two are brother's I don't know 100 percent if they got tested or what not but their mother is still looking into it, to see if they got it. Not sure how to feel about it, but I do hope they are ok.

April 6, 2020

12:00 P.M.

I woke up this morning not knowing where my dad was at. I looked and he wasn't here. Asked my mom where he was and she said he was working. (Wow his job opened, aren't all the jobs supposed to be closed).

5:00 P.M.

He came home and I said aren't all the jobs supposed to be closed. He said yes they should be closed but if the company calls me and ask if I can go, of course I am going to say yes. I can't stay here doing nothing. I like going to work. I wish I could go to school cause this online class ain't it.

7:00 P.M.

My sister asks me to help her with her math. She says that her math teacher does try to help her, but she does understand completely. Good thing that this is high school math I can really do this math. So as I helped her she wanted me to help her with the test that is coming up, so I did.

Section 2: REFLECTION AND ANALYSIS OF DIARY READING

I decided to read the "Diary of the Wimpy Kid", because I love reading books that have some type of comedy to it. Also, I've read some of the books when I was young. I've read the green one and the yellow one. I don't remember the titles these books, but I know the colors (each color is a different type of book). I still haven't read the first one until today. I know what you're going to say " how could you read the third and the fourth book and not read the first one", well I didn't know it was the first one until I was in middle school. I saw the book in my library after I got out of school. I could've gotten and read it, but at the time I didn't like reading. I was more into video games and going to the park. Now that I'm in college the book showed up again. Maybe I was meant to read this book all along.

As I'm reading this book it reminds me when all the kids wanted to read this book and the only way to get your hands on it was to buy it through the bookstore that was in the library. When they got it, they would show it off thinking like the cool kids. I didn't care though because I knew that if I would've brought it, I would most definitely have not read it. So what I did was write a diary myself to see if it was funny or fun writing it. Here what's funny I only wrote five pages and stop because I didn't want someone else to say "look you spelled something wrong" or you say something about my punctuation.

As I'm reading more, I knew why I brought two books. the book is so goofy and funny to anyone who reads it. And this is him only talking about his daily life and what goes on in his house, friend's house, and school. The diary is very organized, it tells me the date of when he wrote it and he explains things very well. Not only that, this also reminds me of the diaries that we are currently doing since we are on lockdown. We talk about what we have been doing since the lockdown and posting it through open lab.

Section 3: REFLECTION ON UNIT II AND GRADE

Wow unit two, I think it went pretty fast. Mostly because of this virus. I never thought that I would have to do all my schoolwork at home. This is the first time that this has ever happened to me and this was difficult. Not only this was hard, but my internet did not have my back throughout this experience. And because of this I was late on some assignments. It not only happened in some of my assignments it also happens on zoom. When I was on zoom it kept trying to reconnect to the internet in which it kept kicking me out of the call causing me to rejoin back about three times. That's not the only that, I couldn't access open lab either I tried to contact them, and it took them three days to respond. This was a lot to take in at the start in which this gave me real struggle for me.

There are still some errors I need to work on but even with the mistakes. I'm probably still using some slang words in my writing and I don't even know it but for the unite two I felt like ive need to put detail in my writing. I need give more detail more so that the reader can until what it is that I'm talking about. Even though I'm still trying to correct my mistakes this unite was honestly fun I learned from myself, on what I do in my daily life, I also learned from what classmates and professor do too. It shows that besides doing classwork and studying they also do different things in their spare life. Especially during this crisis. And even though we are going through this I like the way that my professor is still trying to keep us connected with openlab and zoom. Some of my professors are not doing that, but this is something that I like. As for one of my homework's being late and for the late open lab account, I still do try to comment on some of my classmate's diary and response to the one has given me comments under mine post. This is also something new for me Ive never did any online classes before, so I feel a bit weird about it. I never really speak to my classmate through zoom or open lab but this is something That I have to get us to. Not everything in life goes your way people tell me. As for me grade I think maybe a b is something clam. Just because I feel like I could've did more and did things better.
