Akmal Khudaybakhshiev

ENG 1101

12 November 2020

Professor Jennifer Sears

Covid-19 and Online Education

Effect of Covid-19 students become studying online and get education virtual,so that is why I think those two topics are interesting and attractive to know more. In my group Awa also wrote similar topics as I wrote but our topics ideas and sentences are different. In the current event we have big problems with fighting virus, so it was interesting to show problems and avoid of the problems in the future. Lubna who is in my group interested on my source and she is agree with my idea, that she thinks we do really have to protect ourselves and follow to goverment's rules.

Covid-19 can infect people around the world more and more next ten years if we do not follow the sanitation rules. However if people will keep social distance and stop spread the virus we will save new generation from hazardous virus. I have a friend who infected of virus and he had been in coma for 3 months. My friend survived after long time in the hospital but his health still weak, so he can not physically load in the future. I saw his story fighting virus and wanted explain how virus can be dangerous to our life.

Online education is more popular around and it is sawing people's life's infecting of virus. Studying online helping to students learn easily, comfortable and safe, so studying online will teach us studying even difficult times.