

The 10th Annual City Tech Research Conference will take place on Friday, May 6th in room N-119 from 9:00 am to 3:00 pm.

The event will include a series of talks from faculty members about their research/professional work and short presentations from students involved in advanced research projects mentored by City Tech faculty. In addition, some of the new faculty members will introduce themselves in a dedicated poster session. Breakfast and a light lunch will be served.

We look forward to seeing you on May 6th!

---

9:00 am Breakfast and Viewing of New Faculty Posters

9:30 am Welcoming Remarks: President Hotzler and Provost August

9:45 am Phillip Anzalone - Department of Architectural Technology
Rapidly Deployable and Assembled Tensegrity System

10:10 am Tatiana Malyuta, Department of Computer Systems Technology
The state of the Information Technology: Cloud, Big Data and more...

10:35 am Coffee break

11:00 am Elizabeth Schaible, Department of Hospitality Management
Palate and Place ~ The Intersection of Food and Design, Then and Now

11:25 am Zhijian Qian, Department of Humanities
The Running Nude with a Giant Cross on His Shoulder

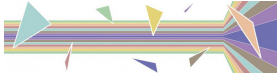

11:50 am Rachid Moumni, Mechanical Engineering Technology
(advisor Prof. Gaffar Gailani)
Design and fabrication of bionic hand

12:00 am Zianne Cuff, Liberal Arts and Sciences
(advisor Prof. Reneta Lansiquot)
Creating Active Learning Spaces in Virtual Worlds

12:10am Joyce Tam, Mechanical Engineering Technology
(advisor Prof. Ozlem Yasar)
Scaffold Design and Fabrication for Tissue Engineering Applications

12:30 pm Lunch Break

1:45 pm Paul Nembhard, Communication Design

(advisor Prof. Julia Jordan)

Designing the Newsletter with Faculty Commons Design Team

2:00 pm Annette Saddik, Department of English

Sicker than Necessary': Tennessee Williams's Theatre of Excess

---

10th Annual Research Conference program