What is Comics art?

Comic Arts is the creation of stylized or simplified drawings for the purpose of telling a story, making a point, or making people laugh.

Introduction

In my research, my topic is gonna be about comics arts, people found out that comic arts are interesting, because they're hardwired for story, the various ways of telling stories. It shows how comics can be communicated design.

Background/Review of the Sources

Back in 2006, I went to the library with my Mom and my brother, and we look anywhere in the library, and then I found a book called, "Captain Underpants", the hilarious superhero, and there was comic book of captain underpants in chapter four, and it was pretty good, and I like. So I create a comic about captain underpants, but different villain., and I like to draw, even create comics.

Therefore, for those two graphic novels shows the art comics is becoming interest, because I like to draw, I can draw a comics, all I need is to draw a panel first, and then draw a characters and speech bubble.

In 2007, when my brother brings a book that he read, called "Diary of a Wimpy Kid". It is about a boy named Greg Heffley has a truth story about a middle child has misery life, and he have to go to awful middle school, but it is pretty funny. Also the part has a comic strips called, ZOO-WEE MAMA" and it was hilarious too.

RATIONALE

My Research is Comic arts, because comics art is a culture that shares the identity and practices of comics artists, publishers, and consumers who enjoying reading Comics. To Description of the comic arts, it uses visuals in a series of sequential pannels to tell story.

Also the comic art can included that it was created by the illustrator, because comic arts needs the full color. So in order to create comic or graphic novels, comic art needs to corporate the text anf font as part of overall design. The Illustration of comic tend to be the writers as well as illustrators of the series. Comic arts are meaningful to me, because individuals can ecome together to share their experiences and perspectives that connections between people and more inclusive environment.
