

A stylized illustration of an octopus against a bright blue background. The octopus's body is a vibrant yellow, and its tentacles are a deep red. Each tentacle is covered in a pattern of yellow circles, representing suckers. The octopus is positioned in the lower right, with its head and one large eye visible. The tentacles curve upwards and to the left, filling the left side of the frame.

“The sea, once it casts its spell, holds one in its net of wonder forever.”

Jacques Yves Cousteau