Dear Ms. Weeks,

I am writing to thank you for your advice. My name is Tatum Benn, One day I showed up late in the day at Brooklyn Hospital Center looking for my first nursing position. You kindly took time out of your day to inform and show me the many applications that you already have on file. I was crestfallen with my chances of working at your institution. At this point, you gave me encouragement to keep going and suggested alternatives that I may have not already consider.

Unfortunately I still have not found that first nursing position, but due to your advice of looking into alternatives I have recently started volunteering on the Medical Surgical floor of Kings County Hospital. I am also continuing with my education in hope of receiving my bachelors in nursing in one more year. Ms. Weeks thank you for your advice and points given that day. Your advice and points were not only informative but it keeps me encouraged in this brutal economy while I look for a nursing position.

Thank You
