Dear (Whom this may concern):

I perceive myself as a detail oriented individual who is currently pursuing a Bachelorette degree in Business and Fashion at New York City College of Technology (City University Of New York). I'm currently looking for a position at a company or firm that meets my needs and a company I can help and grow with.

Currently I am an employee of Footlocker and handle sales transactions at the register and manage the cash wrap at the end of the night. I display excellent teamwork and make sure the customers leave with a great experience and fulfill online orders in a timely manner to make sure all orders are shipped on time to the customers.

I enjoy working in a fast-paced environment because it has improved my skills on fast thinking and problem-solving skills when put in a difficult situation or if a problem arises with a customer at work. I have been with Footlocker for two and a half years and assist on the floor if there aren't enough sales employees.

I would be thrilled to work for a firm/company like this and offer my strong skills and abilities to assist the company and innovate with new ideas and research to develop a stronger marketing team for this company.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Tenzin Chozin
