

Tariah Spencer (Group Project with TaTyana Price)
Culmination Project Proposal

Project Description

In my time at City Tech, I've learned about videography, video editing and lighting. My goal when I graduate is to get a job as a video editor or a cinematographer to overall one day become a movie director. For my culmination project, I will be the cinematographer and will helping with the editing process. In addition, working with my colleague, I will be shooting her screenplay, Dream Chasers, that will focus on a young dancer in NYC following her dreams of becoming a professional dancer. To put my shooting and video editing skills to the test, my proposal would be to shoot a 5-7 min visual narrative, along with giving some pointers to help my colleague throughout the editing process. Being a cinematographer and a video editor for a real production would let me practice my shooting/editing skills, budgeting, management skills, as well as give me real life experience working with a director and a design team to solve challenging production problems.
