

W. De Jesus

November 11, 2018

Section D304

Prof. Bauer

In this image there is a dandelion coming out of what I assume is a sidewalk. I choose this image to visualize the quote because despite how hard and strong concrete is the dandelion still breaks through it. What would be thought to be impossible was made possible by the dandelion. The font used to create this is called Mali. I created this image by using indesign. I choose this quote because I like it and the meaning behind it.

"Nothing is impossible. The word itself says 'I'm possible!'"
-Audrey Hepburn

~~Im~~Possible

"Nothing is impossible. The word itself says 'I'm possible!'"
-Audrey Hepburn

ImPossible

In these two, they are variations of the same concept, instead choosing to use an image, I choose to use words rather than image to show the quote. The font I used is called Baloo Bhaijaan. For the first image I choose to put an X over the 'Im' to show that not everything is impossible and in fact possible.

In this one, I chose to visually enhance this image by using a goldfish jumping from one bowl to another. I choose this image because na goldfish jumping from one bowl to another is whaT I would think is impossible but in reality it is. Cabin Condensed is the name of the font I used for this quote.