

To whom it may concern,

Hello, my name is Yamile Bonifacio. I've seen the graphic design position available for internship through the Brooklyn triangle website and was motivated to apply.

If you are looking for a young, aspiring graphic designer with experience than look no further. My experience at The Point community development corporation, Mi Gente IN and CUNY graphic design baccalaureate program at New York City College Of Technology has taught me things from making flyers, posters, logos, branding identities, promotional items, conceptual designs to how to properly handle clientele. I would greatly appreciate hearing from you and would gladly appreciate reviewing my resume and portfolio online; :
