To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing in reference to Yelissa Vasquez. I had the privilege of working with Yelissa as her manager for her 2020 Winter/Spring internship at HATCH Collection in downtown Manhattan.

I was always impressed with Yelissa's professionalism and willingness to get the job done. We are an extremely fast-paced company with many moving parts. Yelissa was able to juggle the many demands put on her; from managing the logistics and shipping behind our trunk show program, handling all our event RSVPS, helping with set up and break down for events, as well as supporting our Influencer program with identifying partners and handling shipping and communication.

During her internship, the world was turned upside down with COVID-19 and the entire organization was moved remotely. Yelissa didn't waste any time to get involved and was as helpful, punctual and dependable as she was in person finishing out her internship and seeing it through.

I endorse Yelissa and would recommend her for any position. I look forward to seeing where she goes with her career and know that she will succeed wherever she lands. I am happy to answer any additional questions.

Best,
