

8:30 Conversation and Coffee

9:00 Introduction to Living Lab General Education Seminar

Karen Goodlad, Director, Living Lab General Education Seminar, Assistant Professor, Hospitality Management

- General Education at City Tech
- AAC&U and High Impact Educational Practices
- Open Pedagogy on the OpenLab
- Assessment Strategies
- Place-based Learning and the Brooklyn Waterfront Research Center

10:00 Information Literacies in the Context of our Scholarship and our Classroom

Nora Almeida, Assistant Professor, Library

11:40 Introduction to L4: Living Lab Learning Library

*Anna Matthews, Director, Living Lab Learning Library, Assistant Professor, Dental Hygiene
Laura Westengard, Director, Living Lab Learning Library, Assistant Professor, English*

11:50 Next Steps and Reflection

Next Session:

February 26, 9:00am-12:00pm, N119, Open Pedagogy on the OpenLab

To explore open pedagogy opportunities via the OpenLab digital platform.

See the seminar syllabus and OpenLab website for session details.

Information Literacies Activity

Identify one assignment you use in a course that requires students to find, evaluate, or use information.

Group Discussion

How is information literacy framed in relation to the assignment you identified?

How do you ensure students are equipped to discover, evaluate, and use information effectively?

How could you change or improve this assignment or some other aspect of your curriculum to include more information literacy intervention?