

The Postman
 Lee O'Connor
 Character Scene Breakdown

Actor	Character	Scene: 1	2
	SGT. Mills	sgt. Mills throughout the scene suggests ideas to accomodate the soliders such as suggesting a hot meal. This shows empathy and compassion for the soldiers. Mills also shows a deeper understaing of the dangers of war compared to Lt.Pryer. He is concerned about the boys being sent out to slaughter and being underequipped for war. Mills has a more negative outlook on sending the battalion out compared to Pryer who is more optimistic.

	LT. Pryer	Lt. Pryer comes across as hopeful and optimistic. Pryer seems to take a lackadaisical approach to war, as he suggests the men have extra hours of kip. This shows that Pryer has a more relaxed approach to war. Pryer throughout the scene shows empathy and compassion for the battalion. He even suggests a hot meal, even to go as far as suggesting a warm sheperds pie for the men.
--	-----------	--	--