

Mission Statement

The purpose of this website will be showing work both from school and previous internships and jobs in order to get hired. The design of the site will be simple, clean-looking and easy to navigate, the viewers will immediately understand where to find both design work and resume.

Only the best work will appear on the portfolio site. In addition to contact and resume the website will be sectioned according to my strengths which are advertising/graphic design and illustration/drawing. The content on each of these pages will have no more than four to five projects. Overall the website is going to be an introduction to future employers.
